KILLED AND MANGLED

Most Appalling Railroad Horror at Atlantic City.

VICTIMS MAY REACH A HUNDRED.

AWFUL EXTENT OF THE DISASTER.

Relief Trains Dispatched to the Scene With Great Promptness and All Possible Done to Relieve the Injured—The Gigantic and Sickening Task of Removing the Bloodstained Timbers Turned Faint the Strongest Men—Graphic Description of One of the Most Terrible Collisions in the History of Railroad—Names of the Victims So Far as Known.

ATLANTIC CITY, July 31.—A railroad accident, horrible in its details and sickening in its results, occurred last evening just outside of this city, and as a result about 100 persons are either killed or injured.

The Reading railroad express, which left Philadelphia at 5:40 for Atlantic City, crashed into a Pennsylvania railroad excursion train at the second signal tower about four miles out from here. The Pennsylvania train was returning to Bridgeton with a party of excursionists from that place, Millville and neighboring towns. It was loaded with passengers and a rough estimate of killed and injured, at a late hour, places the number at 100.

It is hoped that this is an exaggeration, but the number is undoubtedly more than 50.

At the second signal tower the tracks of the two roads diagonally cross. The Reading train was given the signal, but it either failed to work or the speed of the express was too great to be checked in time. It caught the excursion train broadside and ploughed through, literally cleaving it in twain. The engine of the Reading train was shattered to pieces. Every car was jammed to its fullest capacity. As soon as the news reached Atlantic City the utmost consternation prevailed, but the authorities were equal to the emergency. Relief trains were dispatched to the scene, loaded with cots and bearing staffs of surgeons. As quick as the dead were recovered they were carried into the local hospitals and undertakers' shops. A general fire alarm was sounded and the department promptly responding, aided in the heartrending work of digging for the victims. Fear grew into despair and horror as the vigorous work of the relief gangs revealed the awful extent of the disaster.

The first Reading relief train bore into this city 27 mangled corpses, men, women and children. The next train, not an hour later, carried 15 of the maimed and wounded and two of those died soon after reaching the city. As train after train plied to the scene of the wreck and toiled back with each ghastly load, the sanitarian which does duty as the city hospital quickly found its capacity overtaxed. Meanwhile others of the dead and injured were being carried to the private hospital at Ocean and Pacific avenues.

Edward Farr, engineer on the Reading train, was killed outright, as was another road man who rode on the engine with him. This man, whose name has not yet been learned, saw the collision coming and leaped from the cab an instant before the crash. Almost at the same instant the engine cut its way through and got him in its path. His body and that of Farr were found under a heavy load of debris, but the engineer lay in what remained of the cab and his right hand still clasped the throttle.

He had been faithful unto death, and met it at his post. The fireman on the train had leaped a few seconds before and escaped with trifling injuries.

Samuel Thorne, baggage-master on the Reading train, is among the dead.

James M. Bateman, a Bridgeton undertaker, is known to be killed. He was in the third car and his hat was found lying among the mass of broken timbers.

The responsibility can not now be fixed. Charles C. Rynick of Bridgeton, who was in the excursion party, was in one of the rear cars. He escaped with seven bruises, and so far as his agitation would permit, told the story of his experience.

"When we saw that a collision was unavoidable," he said, "the scene in our car was terrific. Women fainted and men rushed in mad panic before the door, but it came almost before we knew it. The third car was cut right in two and the lower portion of it lifted bodily from the track and tumbled over. Every car was crowded and it is horrible to think of the number that must be lying under those ruins. The roof of one car was buried under it. It simply dropped upon the people. I know many of those on board. I know positively of two in our car who were killed. They were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bell of Bridgeton. Their daughter was in another car further back and was not hurt. I do not know who is to blame. When we were two miles out from Atlantic City we came to a stop out in the meadows and stayed there for several minutes, but I do not know why. I there must have been fully 80 or 100 killed. The only person with me was my 6-year-old son and he was not hurt, thank God."

An Associated Press reporter was on one of the first relief trains sent out by the Pennsylvania railroad and he was the first newspaper representative on the scene. The train was in charge of a number of railroad officials and Prosecutor Perry of Atlantic county. It drew up in the darkness a few feet this side of the fatal point. The scene was wildly picturesque. Canopied by a starlit sky, with a blood red moon almost at its full, shining in the far back ground and the brilliant maze of lights glimmering from the city beyond, the gaiety of which has been suddenly eclipsed by the most awful catastrophe in its history. Staggering under masses of broken timber with only a few fitful lanterns to help their straining eyes, the rescue gang set bravely to work. Axes and shovels were plied with the greatest vigor and almost at every half dozen strokes another form was brought up and laid tenderly upon the waiting pallets.

It was a gigantic and sickening task and the strongest of men turned aside faint from revelation of the work of the spades. A heap of bloodstained timbers turned aside by one of the rescuers brought to sight a woman's arm. It had been wrenched off almost by the roots, and nothing remained but a dripping stump. Even the hand was gone. It had been clad in a dainty white linen glove, the sleeve of which still hung to it.

Not five minutes later a chance blow from a pick revealed a still more ghastly remnant, a human heart that only a few short hours before had been throbbing with life and love.

One woman whose body was recovered still held in her dead hand a plate bearing a picture of Atlantic City. It was unbroken. Scattered about the ground near the wreck were many pieces of clothing which had been torn from the bodies of the victims, hats, dainty parasols, fans and gloves.

Seventeen unidentified women, four men and a female child, all dead, were brought to the excursion house after midnight. Fireman Kelley of the Reading train was fatally injured.

It is said that the Reading signal was displayed and that the whistle of the train was sounded. The Reading has the right of way at the crossing. The excursion train bore five tribes of the order of Red Men, the Bridgeton, the Niagara, the Iowa, the Ahwahenah and the Cohansick, with their wives and children.

The ringing of the fire bells gave the Atlantic City public the first intimation they received of the disaster. The utmost excitement prevailed. The board walk was deserted and the crowds that surged about the two railroad stations rendered the streets in those sections almost impassable. Mrs. Edward Farr, wife of the Reading engineer who was killed, when informed of her husband's tragic end, threw up her hands with a frantic shriek and fell dead at the feet of her informant.

RAILWAY MAIL CLERKS

Warned Not to Be Too Active Politically. May Vote as They Please.

WASHINGTON, July 31.—The postoffice department has issued a circular of instructions to railway postal clerks informing them of the department's wishes concerning the attitude of the clerks in the coming political campaign. It insists that employees of the railway mail service shall not take an active interest in politics in the way of attending conventions as delegates, making political speeches or assisting in the management of political campaigns. The circular continues:

"These employees should recognize the fact that their tenure of office depends upon themselves; if they conform to these requirements and are efficient, honest, courteous to the public and abstain from unseemly and indecent language in discussing candidates or parties, they may reasonably expect to remain in the service. All this, however, will not interfere with their voting according to the dictates of their own conscience or of expressing their opinion in an intelligent and courteous way."

WHITE CAP OUTRAGE.

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., July 31.—News has just reached here that Modesto, a small country town north of this city, was the scene of great excitement Sunday night. White Caps to the number of 30 called at the residence of Mrs. Nettie Chrisman and demanded admittance, which was refused. The leaders forced the door open and Mrs. Chrisman was taken from her home in her night clothes and hanged by her wrists to the limb of a tree. She received a terrible beating with switches.

Not content with their work, the gang carried all of her household goods and deposited them on the highway and then fired the residence. The poor woman, still suspended from the tree, watched the destruction of her home. No reason is given for the outrage other than that a rumor was current last week concerning her character, which charge is refuted. The county will offer a reward for the perpetrators and the grand jury will investigate. The woman is in a precarious condition.

FIGHT FOLLOWS ELOPEMENT.

An Indiana Farmhand Fatally Wounds His New Brother-in-Law.

VINCENNES, Ind., July 31.—Thomas E. Prather, a farmhand, and Miss Maude Delay, daughter of a wealthy farmer, eloped from Sanborn, this county, and drove to this city and were married yesterday morning. They then drove back to Sanborn, when an altercation took place between Prather and Clyde Delay, a brother of the bride. Prather drew a revolver and shot his now brother-in-law in the abdomen, ploving an ugly gash in Delay's side as it went. The wound is very serious and may prove fatal. After glancing out of Delay's body, the ball struck a bystander and cut off his thumb, afterward passing through a base drum.

Famous Tunnel Duplicated.

HAZLETON, Pa., July 31.—Cox Brothers & Company have completed arrangements for driving a tunnel through the Qua Qua mountain to the mines at Beaver Meadow. The tunnel will be one and one-half mile in length, and will give a natural drainage to all mines in the basin. It will take two years to complete the work, and from an engineering standpoint will compare with the famous Jeddo tunnel.

Sturgis-Bement.

ST. PAUL, July 31.—The wedding of Lieutenant S. D. Sturgis of Fortress Monroe and Miss Bertha Tracy Bement, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. C. Bement, took place at St. Clement's Episcopal church, Bishop Gilbert, assisted by Rev. Dr. Rhodes, rector of St. John's parish, officiating. A large number were present from all over the country.

THE WORK OF STRIKING MINERS.

The Watchman Bound and the Hymera Plant Totally Destroyed.

SULLIVAN, Ind., July 31.—For several days rumors have been floating here and there that something out of the ordinary was impending in mining matters. The miners, however, whenever approached denied the rumors afloat. Yesterday morning about 2 o'clock two masked men appeared at the Hymera mines, and cornering the night watchman, Oregon Marlow, with drawn revolvers, commanded him to move on. They took him about one-half mile from the shaft and tied him, first cautioning him against attempting to give an alarm. The men then returned to the mine and set fire to all the top buildings, including the tipples, boiler and engine rooms.

Soon after the fire started, Clay Cummings, the engineer, was notified, but the fire proved to be too far advanced. The loss will reach $40,000.

The men who stood by the company, and who were at work Wednesday, were visited by the delegation representing the striking miners, and requested to walk out, which they refused to do. The company's attorney at this place was notified by a responsible person that the mine would be burned, but so many stories have been floating around that he paid no attention to it.

The plant was one of the best equipped mines in Indiana, having electric machinery and electric lights all through it. The majority of the miners were residents, and owned their property. The fire will ruin them entirely.

WARSHIP STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.

ROME, July 31.—During the prevalence of a thunderstorm lightning struck the coast defense warship Roma and set fire to her. The flames spread rapidly in spite of the efforts of the crew to subdue them, and her commander, seeing that they were approaching the powder magazine, gave orders to attach a torpedo to the hull of the vessel and then for all hands to abandon the ship. When the small boats containing the crew were at a safe distance the torpedo was discharged, tearing a great hole in the hull and causing the Roma to quickly sink. Nobody was hurt.

The Roma was a central-battery, wooden, single-screw, bark-rigged vessel of 5,370 tons. She was 261 feet 4 inches long, 57 feet 4 inches beam and 24 feet 1 inch mean draught of water. She was built in Genoa in 1865. Her engines were of 2,819 indicated horse power and she had a speed of 13 knots. Her armament consisted of 31 large and magazine guns.

FATAL TO FOUR.

Shooting the "Chutes" Causes a Terrible Accident at a Sunday School Picnic.

KNOXVILLE, July 31.—A terrible fatality occurred at Lake Ottozee, a summer resort, five miles from this city, yesterday afternoon. A Sunday school picnic was in progress, and the recently erected "chutes" were doing a good business. As one of the boats came down the chute, having aboard 13 small children, a rowboat crossed its path as it struck the water and four occupants of the rowboat were killed or injured. The dead are:

Charles Perry, aged 17.
Walter Wright, aged 21.
Miss Carrie Phibbs, aged 17.
Miss Mary Foster of Alabama was injured and will die. Wright's body was terribly mangled and his neck broken.

Gas Rages at Anderson.

ANDERSON, Ind., July 31.—The Citizens' Gas company of this city has rejected the schedule of prices for gas for another year, as submitted by its supply, the Fort Wayne company, controlled by the Dietrich syndicate, which also supplies gas to Indianapolis. The Fort Wayne people wanted 30 per cent advance, but the only change is to rate furnaces from a standard of $3 to $2.75 and $4. Heating stoves and grates continue at $1.40 per month, with $1 for additional heaters, and $1.10 for cooking stoves. The Fort Wayne company receives $45,000 annually from here.

Much Suffering and Two Deaths.

INDIANAPOLIS, July 31.—Yesterday was the hottest day of the season in this city, the weather office thermometer registering 95 degrees at 1:30 p. m. The intense heat resulted in two deaths from prostration. At noon Charles Harmon, a driver, expired a few minutes after leaving his wagon, and in the afternoon Mary Saunders, a colored girl, died. There were three or four more cases reported that will not prove fatal. At 8:30 last evening the thermometer dropped to 72 on account of a thunderstorm. There has been much suffering.

Death of John Dabney Morris.

HOPKINSVILLE, Ky., July 31.—John Dabney Morris, who is well known all over Kentucky and Virginia, died yesterday at the home of his son-in-law, 16 miles south of here, aged 80 years. He was born in Hanover county, Va. In early manhood he moved to Texas and was a member of the Texas congress. He was also attorney general of the Texas republic. He was a colonel in both the Mexican and civil wars.

Fought Over Their Squaws.

PERRY, O. T., July 31.—Near Ralston, on the Arkansas river, Bill Harm and Joe Littleface, Indians, fought over their squaws, each charging the other with trying to steal his wife. Both men will die from injuries inflicted by his opponent. The squaws became mixed up in the fight and received serious injuries.

TORRENTS OF WATER

Spread Desolation Through Lower Steubenville.

TWO HUNDRED PEOPLE HOMELESS

Houses, Barns, Bridges and Trees Were Swept Before the Flood and Completely Wrecked—Occupants Fled to the Hills. Immense Damage—Brief but Terrible Cyclone at Gloucester—One Fatality.

STREUBENVILLE, O., July 31.—A severe storm like a cloudburst occurred west of this city yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock and within a period of 30 minutes a mighty torrent of water had spread desolation along both Parmar's and Fisher's runs in the lower part of this city. No lives were lost, as there were persons along the creeks who saw the water coming down the valley who ran from house to house warning the people. Everybody fled, many wading knee deep in water from their homes to the hills which line the runs on both sides. Two hundred people are homeless as a result of the flood. The damage will aggregate all of $200,000.

The water came down the creeks 20 feet high, sweeping before the flood barns, houses, bridges, trees and out-buildings. The houses that were washed away and completely wrecked were owned and occupied by the families of Mrs. Philabaum, Robert Ritchie, William Risdon, James Burgess, Andy Albaugh, Benjamin Wise, Grant Stroud, John Hart and Henry B. Bowman's store. The houses of 25 others were wrecked or damaged by the water and muddy slime that settled over everything. The debris all gathered at the mouth of the Panhandle culvert and the water backed up in the lowlands nearby, where all the houses were washed away.

The culvert was undermined and most of it swept away, and this undermined the track so that it will be at least 24 hours before the damage is repaired. Trains have not been running since 3 p. m. and they will have to be run around on other roads today. There is another culvert washed out a half mile further west on the Panhandle. On the same road at Gouls the track is covered to a depth of four feet by a slip which is 650 feet in length. On the Wheeling and Lake Erie road washouts are reported all along the road from here to Jewett. A Culvert over Wills creek was washed out on the Cleveland and Pittsburg railroad. Big slips are reported on the Cleveland and Pittsburg road at Brilliant, Martin's Ferry and Port Homer.

Wills creek, north of this city, was the highest in its history yesterday and swept away bridges and damaged ice ponds and several houses were washed from their foundations. During the flood on Parmar's run William Bush and wife took refuge in a cherry tree. Two bents of the Wheeling and Lake Erie road were washed away. The poor people along the line of the flood have gone bravely to work to collect together and repair the damage done. Houses on Church street, this city, and on Commercial street, Mingo, were flooded by a hard rain.

CYCLONE AT GLOUCESTER.

Several Houses Wrecked, Others Wrenched From Their Foundations.

COLUMBUS, O., July 31.—A destructive cyclone visited Gloucester, a mining town, 75 miles south of here, at 8 o'clock Wednesday night. Several houses were mashed in pieces and a number of others were wrenched from their foundations. J. L. Dougherty, while in front of his store was completely buried under the board sidewalk. His back was broken and he died later of his injuries. He was a prominent Mason and Odd Fellow. The house occupied by James McClelland and family of six was crushed like an egg but the occupants escaped injury. The tornado lasted scarcely a minute, but rain fell in torrents for half an hour. Thousands of dollars damage to buildings and growing crops was the result. Another heavy storm visited Gloucester yesterday but no damage was done.

DESTROYED HIS FAMILY.

AUSTIN, Tex., July 31.—One of the most heinous crimes ever committed in this city was brought to light yesterday. W. E. Burt, a member of one of the best and most respectable families of the city, murdered his wife and two children, aged 2 and 4 years, last Friday night and placed the dead bodies in a cistern.

His residence adjoined the business portion and the stench led to an investigation. He left the city Saturday night following the terrible deed, and informed several of the neighbors not to drink the water as it was polluted by a dead cat. His relatives became alarmed at the disappearance of his family and when he departed something was suspected.

The wife was asleep. He bound her in a blanket after tying her feet and neck together and then dropped her body into the cistern. Both children had their brains knocked out. His brothers have offered a reward of $300 for his apprehension.

J. P. Hoffer Dies in the East.

NEW LONDON, Conn., July 31.—Mr. J. P. Hoffer, a prominent iron merchant of Cincinnati, whose family has been summering at Eastern Point, died suddenly shortly before midnight of apoplexy. He was 72 years of age.

It is stated that 10,000 coal miners in the Jellico coal regions have declared through their unions that they will support Bryan and Sewall. They are coming over by thousands. This one crowd outnumbers all the bolting Democrats in half a dozen states.

HAD the "sound money" Democrats won at Chicago, they would have expected the silverites to support the nominee. But the "sound money" crowd didn't win, and the silverites have a right to demand their support. We'll not have a party long, if the losing factions refuse to abide the will of the majority.

"I believe gold and silver money to be the money of the Constitution, indeed, the money of the American people, anterior to the Constitution, which the great organic law recognized as quite independent of its own existence. No power was conferred in Congress to declare either money should not be money. Congress has, therefore, in my judgment, NO POWER TO DEMONETIZE EITHER. If, therefore, silver has been demonetized, I am in favor of remonetizing it. If its coinage has been prohibited, I am in favor of ordering it to be resumed. I am in favor of having it enlarged."—James G. Blaine.

Take a gold dollar, pound it out of all likeness to a dollar, take it to an assay office, and you can get 100 cents for it in any kind of money you want. Take a silver dollar, pound it out of all shape and likeness to itself, then carry it to an assay office, and you will just get fifty-three cents for it.—Louisville Commercial.

"But suppose you go back to 1873," replies the Carlisle Mercury. "If you had taken a gold dollar that year and pounded it out of all likeness of a dollar, you sold it for 100 cents. Had you taken a silver dollar and pounded it likewise, you could have sold it for 103 cents. Now you demonetize gold as you did silver, what do you think gold would be worth?"

It is within the recollection of many persons in Maysville when the former Democratic and present Populist-Anarchist "organ" in this city was particularly severe in its opposition to the Republican can candidate for Circuit Judge of this district because he was a railroad attorney. In the eyes of the able editor this was an unpardonable crime; but now, since it has changed its Democracy for Populism it has taken the third degree in inconsistency and is found warmly supporting Mr. Bryan, who is a salaried attorney for the Missouri Pacific Railway Company.—Public Ledger.

This "campaign lie," started by crazy Dana's New York Sun, was denied days ago. Mr. Bryan is not connected with the corporation named. The back-number editor of the Ledger should keep posted.

HE'S FOR BRYAN

KENOSHA, Wis., July 25.—A great surprise has been sprung in the political circles of this section by the announcement that Z. C. Simmons, by long odds the wealthiest man in Southern Wisconsin, has declared himself unqualifiedly in favor of Bryan and Sewall, and has endorsed the entire Chicago platform. Mr. Simmons is President of the First National Bank, owns large business blocks, is President of the Northwestern Wire Mattress Company and of the Northwestern Telegraph Company, whose wires now form, under lease, a great portion of the Northwestern system of the Western Union Telegraph Company, and controls large belongings in railway stocks. He has always been an unwavering adherent of the Republican party.

SILVER AND GOLD.

Money Question One of the Most Important That Confronts Our People.

Some Claims of the Single-Standard Crowd Answered—Monometallism Will Not Do.

Since the origin of this government no more serious question has confronted its citizens than the one now demanding solution. The determination of whether we shall continue on a single gold standard or return to bimetalism is of serious importance to every citizen of this country, whatever his occupation. In our advocacy of bimetalism it is not our intention to overlook or underestimate the arguments of our friends who believe in a single gold standard; therefore let us consider those of their most plausible propositions. We are asked to believe that if our mints are opened to the free coinage of silver at 16 to 1, the result will be:

First, to drive our gold from us.

Second, that after our silver is coined it will in fact be worth only 50 cents on the dollar.

Third, we are asked to continue the gold standard because it is the only correct standard of values.

Since we can not concur in any of the above propositions let's consider the merit of their claims.

To the statement that our gold will leave us under free coinage, we ask: Have you kept it under a single gold standard?

It was claimed by those who demonetized silver in 1873 that the money question was settled once and for all, that by destroying silver as money it would not drive our gold out and we would always have gold enough for use. Does not every man in this country who has observed our financial condition in the last few years see how false this claim has proved. For the last three years this country has trembled on the verge of bankruptcy because our gold was leaving us, and we have been compelled to issue $262,000,000 of bonds to keep our gold at home. Now the great danger that has threatened us from gold exports has arisen from the fact that the legislation which demonetized silver took from us a silver dollar actually worth a dollar without gold to support it, and gave us one worth only 53 cents if gold is taken from behind it. If confidence were destroyed to-morrow in our ability to maintain gold payments the value of every silver dollar would decline in value to its bullion value, which is only 53 cents, and every holder of these dollars would lose 47 cents on each dollar held. Since our gold friends have thrust upon us a dollar in demonetized silver and at the same time utterly failed to keep good their promise to supply us with the necessary gold, might it not be wise to remonetize silver? If we do that, each dollar will stand on its own merit and when our gold leaves us we will have a sound silver currency with which to transact our business until our gold returns through the channel of trade, instead of through a Wall street bank syndicate which must be paid $12,000,000 for the patriotic service of keeping up our gold reserve.

What condition is a country like this in when ten or twelve bankers have to meet and devise ways and means to furnish this government money to run on?

Now let's consider the claim that our dollars would only be worth 53 cents. This is true unless the admission of bullion to the mints would bring its value up to the legal ratio. This we claim it would do. And to substantiate this claim we invite a careful investigation of the figures bearing on the production of silver in the world.

The report of our Mint Director for 1894 shows that the world produced $308,371,000 in silver, valued at the ratio of 16-1, in 1893; of this amount the United States produced $77,375,700 and Mexico produced $37,375,600, making $114,951,300 produced by these two countries alone, leaving the balance of silver produced by the world amounting to $73,419,700. Of this $73,419,700 South and Central American countries, which now have free coinage, produced $25,044,700 and the Dominion of Canada produced $829,400, which makes the total American production $106,317,400, leaving only $18,033,600 produced by the balance of the world. The amount actually produced by Great Britain, that arrogant money grabber, whose permission the gold bugs claim is essential to bimetalism, was $327,700.

From these figures we see what the annual production of silver is; now let's see what the annual consumption is. The report of our Mint Director shows that for the years 1891-2-3 the amount of silver coined annually averaged over $143,000,000 and the consumption in the arts averaged over $27,000,000 for the same time, making a total consumption by the world of $170,000,000. Only $48,000,000 of this silver was produced outside of America, which shows that after the old world uses all the silver it produces, it is compelled to go into the market and buy $122,000,000 worth of silver. Now if this government says our silver shall be coined free at the rate of 37 1/4 grains of silver to the dollar, which is 16 to 1, would any silver bullion holder sell his silver to supply the foreign demand for less than that price? We say no. And that would be its commercial value. Now our gold friends say that we cannot sell this $122,000,000 surplus, but our mints will be compelled to coin it. Well if we were compelled to coin it it would only add annually $1.70 to our per capita of money, and when you consider that the loss to our silver money from mutilation is considerable you will find that the net increase to our silver money would be less than $1.70.

Surely this would not be too much to add to our money annually. Do not these figures refute the claim that free silver would deluge us with foreign silver and that our dollar would only be worth 53 cents?

Now let's examine the claim made for the gold standard, that it is the only correct standard of value.

We all know that values exist relatively only. That is to say when a bushel of wheat sells for $1 the relative value of the dollar is less by half than when wheat is worth 50 cents and a dollar will buy two bushels of wheat. Now these relative values of product as compared with our circulating medium is regulated by supply and demand. If money is scarce it will take more bushels of wheat to be worth a dollar than if money is plentiful, and to ascertain what the probable result of a single gold standard will be we must ascertain what are the facts as regards the output of gold as compared with the other products of labor which must be measured in gold. We know that the world's output of things to be measured in and moved by gold is increasing enormously each year. Fields which a few years ago were unproductive wastes now contribute to our supply of wheat, corn, cotton, sugar and other staples, while the machinery now in use enables one man to produce as much of the

Many of these cures are marvelous. They have won the confidence of the people; have given Hood's Sarsaparilla the largest sales in the world, and have made necessary for its manufacture the greatest laboratory on earth. Hood's Sarsaparilla is known by the cures it has made—cures of scrofula, salt rheum and eczema, cures of rheumatism, neuralgia and weak nerves, cures of dyspepsia, liver troubles, catarrh—cures which prove world's stock of merchandise in a day as five men formerly could in the same length of time. Now is it not plain that unless our stock of gold increases proportionately we must curtail production or make use of our other metal as money? We propose to show by reliable statistics that our gold is not sufficient to meet the demands upon it, and to discontinue production means more misery to mankind than we shall attempt to describe.

In the face of these conditions we are forced to the conclusion that human welfare is to be best served by the remonetization of silver. The report of our Mint Director for 1894 shows that the annual output of gold in the world for 1891-2-3 averaged only $144,118,666, of which $50,177,300 was used annually in the arts, leaving only $93,941,366 for coinage. Now let's give our gold standard friends the benefit of the best position they could possibly take, and say that this $93,941,366 is to be divided among only one-fourth of the peoples of the earth, and we are astounded to find that it would only add annually to our per capita of money the insignificant sum of twenty-four cents; and it has been estimated by reliable authority that it will take 8 cents of this amount to replace the loss to our stock of gold, which leaves a net gain of only 16 cents.

It will be noted if the output of gold were distributed among entire population of the world the increase would be on 6 cents per capita, 2 cents less than the annual loss to our gold. However we figure, it must be plain that with only gold for money the world's output of merchantable produce is so out of proportion to gold as to enhance its value far beyond what it should be, if the good of our laboring and producing classes is to be considered in the construction of a monetary system.

WHEN a man owns a blooded horse he is always careful of its health. He looks after its diet and is particular that the feeding shall be regular and right. While he is doing this it is likely as not that he is himself suffering from some disease or disorder. When the trouble gets so bad that he cannot work, he will begin to give himself the care he gave the horse at the start. Good, pure, rich, red blood is the best assurance against disease of any kind. Almost all diseases come from impure or impoverished blood. Keep the blood pure and strong and disease can find no foothold. That is the principle upon which Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery works. It cleanses, purifies and enriches the blood, puts and keeps the whole body in perfect order; makes appetite good, digestion strong, assimilation perfect. It brings, ruddy, virile health. It builds up solid, wholesome flesh (not fat) when, from any cause, reduced below the healthy standard.

WALL STREET BANKERS.

They Are Awful Kind to Uncle Sam Just at Present, and Are Pouring Gold Into the Treasury.

[Carlisle Mercury.]

A LETTER.

Hon. John G. Carlisle, Washington, D. C.—Dear Sir: Being convinced that our raids upon the gold reserve in the United States Treasury are likely to elect that chief idiot, W. J. Bryan, and thereby deprive honest and smart denizens of Wall street of the profit we can reap from continued government bond issues, we have concluded to cease our attacks on the credit of the government until after the election, and to prove our good faith in the matter we send you herewith twenty-five millions in gold for you to keep until we call for it. The voters of the United States are mostly idiots and they will not see this trick until it is too late to head us off. Yours &c., WALL STREET BANKERS.

ACCIDENT ins. tickets. W. R. Warder.

CINCINNATI Enquirer: "Governor William O. Bradley, of Kentucky, silently folded his valise Tuesday morning and stole back to Frankfort, after a few days' sojourn in the Queen City. He was under treatment of different sorts. His physical ailments were taken care of satisfactorily, but the McKinley managers have not quite forgiven him, and ex-Congressman J. H. Wilson, of his own State, likewise in the city at the same time, jumped on him with four feet, hob-nailed. The McKinley crowd has it in for the Governor, and the best he can do is to stay at home and play for Senator."

AN UNFORTUNATE AFFAIR.

Martin McDonough Shot and Seriously Wounded by Early Shofstall Last Evening in the West End.

Martin McDonough was shot and seriously wounded about six o'clock last evening at the Poyntz distillery in the West End by Early Shofstall.

Mr. Shofstall is day watchman at the distillery, and it has been his custom for some time to take his pistol along, to guard against danger from tramps, when he went to close up the buildings each evening.

Mr. McDonough has the reputation of being rather quarrelsome and has had trouble with several of his neighbors. He has had a grievance against Mr. Shofstall for some time, and when the two met last evening McDonough, it is said, threatened to kill Shofstall and followed this up by attacking him and striking him.

Mr. Shofstall, thinking his life was in danger, and in the excitement of the moment, drew his pistol, a .38-calibre weapon, and shot McDonough twice.

One ball lodged in the muscles connecting the right arm and chest, and this wound is not considered a very dangerous one. The other ball struck below the ribs and to the right of the navel, and has not been located.

The wounded man was resting very well this morning and may recover.

After the shooting Mr. Shofstall came up town and surrendered to Chief of Police Ort. He was taken before Judge Hutchins, who set his examining trial for 10 o'clock this morning. Bail was fixed at $1,000. He gave the required bond, with Messrs. Charles B. Poyntz and Ben Poyntz as sureties.

Mr. Shofstall enjoys the reputation of being a quiet and industrious citizen.

AN EXCITING SCENE.

It Occurred at the Jailer's Residence in Vanceburg—Attacked Her Prosecutor.

A special from Vanceburg says: "Wednesday evening Mrs. Dora Hardiman, the pretty widow of the late Colonel W. H. Hardiman, attempted to cut her throat while sitting at the dining table of Jailer Dale. The knife was wrested from her.

"Attorney John Lytleton entered the room at that juncture, and when the frantic woman saw him she seized a knife and flew at him. He fled for his life. He had prosecuted her when she had been fined $50 and sentenced to ten days in jail for carrying concealed weapons.

"She was formerly a belle of Chattanooga, Tenn., and first married Captain John F. Slater. After coming to Kentucky and living with him several years she discovered he had another living wife from whom he had not been divorced. She left him, and Colonel W. H. Hardiman, a wealthy landowner, married her. Colonel Hardiman was murdered near Esculapia last summer."

A Most Enjoyable Picnic in Honor of Miss Grimes of Bourbon County.

Mrs. W. N. Stockton gave a "picnic" on Tuesday last in honor of her attractive guest, Miss Grimes. About fifteen couples in wagonette and phaetons from town were present, and the affair was said to have been decidedly the most enjoyable of the season.

Only those who have accepted of the hospitality of Mr. James Kirk and his attractive family can know how many hearts can be made lighter by a day's outing at his beautiful suburban home,—say nothing of the dinners that are sure to succeed his invitations.

Miss Grimes has been the recipient of many favors since she has been in Maysville, and we fear that many of our boys will be wending their way to fair "Bourbon" when she leaves Maysville.

Mrs. Stockton is a charming hostess, and to be her guest is sufficient in itself to insure one a lovely time and a deal of attention.

HIS PAPER MOSTLY TAKEN UP.

An Interesting Taxation Question Is Raised

Damage Suit at Lima—Other Ohio News.

CLEVELAND, July 31.—By a round-about way news has been received by friends and relatives in this city of the recent movements of David R. Paige, the most conspicuous American fugitive, in South America. Not for a day has there been a cessation of the efforts being made to meet the forged paper he put in circulation to bolster up his big New York aqueduct contract.

The amount of the paper bearing the forged name of John Huntington was originally $800,000 and it is said that only $70,000 is now outstanding.

Paige is eager to return to the United States and has been living mostly in the suburbs of Buenos Ayres, Argentine Republic. Recently, however, he has been in London in consultation, it is believed, with Attorney Kellogg of New York, and it is thought also that he has been in Paris and Canada. There are certain things also which indicate that he was in New York for a few days.

TAXING THE POPE.

New and Interesting Taxation Question
Arises at Columbus.

COLUMBUS, O., July 31.—An interesting question is to be decided by the city board of equalization. Yesterday, at the request of the board, Father Jessing, founder and director of the Catholic college known as the Josephinum, appeared to show cause why the college property, valued at about $50,000, should not be listed for taxation. Father Jessing said that the title to the property was vested in the pope and he, being the head of the Catholic church, the college property came under the exemption of church property. The board will consider well before it decides what action to take. The question, it is said, has never been raised in this country.

Fired on Their Nephews.

WINCHESTER, O., July 31.—A tragedy was narrowly averted near the country home of Township Trustee Ben K. Swearingen shortly before 7 o'clock Wednesday evening. Mr. Swearingen sent his sons Harvey and Charles down the creek to look for a couple of water gates which had been washed away by the high water of Tuesday night.

When the young men reached the farm of the Misses Susan and Ellen Swearingen, both aunts of the young men, the ladies thought it was employees of a turnpike contractor coming after stone over which the ladies have had considerable trouble, and an injunction suit is now pending. The women opened fire with a couple of revolvers, and the young men were compelled to flee for their lives.

Trouble Not Over Yet.

CLEVELAND, July 31.—Trouble at the works of the Brown Hoisting and Conveying Machine company is not over yet. Yesterday afternoon F. H. Buckingham, a nonunion workman, became frightened while passing a small crowd of strikers who have not returned to work, and drawing two revolvers, fired at the men, neither of the bullets taking effect. Buckingham has been arrested. B. V. Brown, who returned to work when the strike was settled, was beset by a crowd of strikers and brutally kicked and beaten.

Engines Smashed.

CHILlicothe, O., July 31.—There was a bad head-on collision on the Baltimore and Ohio Southwestern railway a few miles east of here yesterday. Two freight trains came together with great force one mile west of West Junction, the engineer of one of them having overlooked an order to lie at West Junction until the other had passed. The engines were smashed in, cars derailed and track torn up. By a miracle no one was injured.

Run Into Cows.

WILMINGTON, O., July 31.—Fifteen freight cars were piled alongside the Cincinnati and Muskingum Valley railroad track about three and one-half miles back here Wednesday night at 11 p. m. The engine ran into three cows, killing them, and thus causing the wreck. One brakeman received a severe cut about the head.

Highest Ever Known.

TROY, O., July 31.—A hard rain, accompanied by high wind, did much damage in this vicinity. Trees were blown down and uprooted. Corn is flat on the ground. The Miami river and creeks are swollen. Telephone lines are crossed and down. The river is the highest ever known in July.

Barn Struck by Lightning.

ALLIANCE, O., July 31.—Heavy storm in this vicinity yesterday. At Minerva, Levi Harsh's barn was struck by lightning and, with large crops just harvested, entirely destroyed by fire. Loss, $2,000; insurance, $800. The wind did much damage.

Alleged Robber Arrested.

CORNING, O., July 31.—Clarence Burdette, charged with robbing James Clifford of $20 and a watch, was arrested and taken to the county jail today by Marshall J. G. Stallsmith to await the action of the grand jury.

$10,000 Damage Suit.

LIMA, O., July 31.—The Lima Drilling company has entered suit against the Lima and Northern Railroad company for $10,000 for constructing side tracks, etc., on their property without consent of the company.

Gladness Comes

With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a constipated condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs, promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness, without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to note when you purchase, that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, and sold by all reputable druggists.

If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, then laxatives or other remedies are not needed. Afflicted with any actual disease, one may be commended to the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxative, then one should have the best, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely used and gives most general satisfaction.
